2. Should someone be forgiven for an action when they haven't asked for forgiveness or even admitted their offence?

DIGGING DEEPER

3. To be forgiven is to see our greatest need taken care of. How was and how is this true for you? Are there times when you lose sight of this forgiveness?

4. Where do you see the reality of you having been forgiven now influencing your daily life and interactions? Who is amazed and glorifying God with you because they've seen the work of forgiveness evident in your life?
